

Table with multiple columns containing financial data, including company names, fund names, and numerical values. The table is organized into several vertical sections.