

Main table containing financial data, company names, and stock codes. The table is organized into columns with headers for company name, stock code, and various financial metrics.