

Table with multiple columns containing financial data, company names, and dates. The table is organized into several vertical sections, each starting with a header row (e.g., (上接C13版) or (下接C15版)). Each row contains numerical values, company names, and dates, representing financial disclosures for various entities.