

Table with multiple columns containing financial data, company names, and codes. The table is organized into several sections, with the first section starting with '(上接 C25页)' and the last section ending with '(下接 C27页)'. Each row contains detailed information about various entities and their financial metrics.