

(上接C24版)

Table with multiple columns containing financial data, including company names, codes, and various financial metrics. The table is organized into several vertical sections.