

Table with multiple columns containing fund names, codes, dates, and other financial details. The table is organized into columns and contains extensive data for various investment funds.