

Table with multiple columns containing financial data, company names, and codes. The table is organized into sections, with the first section labeled '(上接C21版)'. It lists various entities and their associated financial metrics.